The hardening of call money rates, a contingency looked forward to for some time, is not relished by brokers, although they have had plenty of time to anticipate it. Whether Wall Street is about to pate it. Whether wan street is about to face a real stringency cannot be predicted with accuracy, but this is among the possibilities. It is known that more than one bank in New York is discriminating against collateral it once favored, while the trust companies are very chary about lending money at all.

Bear points on Pennsylvania are cur rent, but are discovered by the Phila delphia nouses, who report that there is rather a disposition among their cus delphia houses, is rather a disposition among their customers to buy the stock than to sell it. With no possible chance of stopping the fire and with the gravest danger of its being communicated to other tanks. Shortly after noon the large tank full of oil was struck by lightning and ignited. It is on a hillside above the Valvoline and Wilburine refineries, and below and around it are nine ofher tanks ranging from 10,600 to 30,000 capacity and all containing oil.

The fire is two miles from the manufacturing center of Butler, but property holders along Connoquenessing creek are alarmed for the safety of their property, as it is but a matter of a few hours until the surface of the stream will be covered with burning oil. There are half a dozen lumber yards located on the banks of the creek.

The figures which are of most striking interest to the public are the totals

States has a valuation of $20,000,000,000,000, having increased 400 per cent in the last half century. The annual product of the farm is $5,000,000,000,000.

For more than a half decade the surplus capital of the country has been pouring into new enterprises or given in the exchanges of the large decrease shown in the exchanges of that city, caused by the much smaller volume of Wall Street dealings and lower stock values. Philadelphia reports a small loss, and there are trifling decreases at Boston and Louisville; otherwise exchanges show an increase of capital of over $3,750,000,000 between 1900 and 1905, and by this time a total of $4,000,000,000 may easily be accounted for.
